

Revised IRB Application

The IRB application form has been updated to comply with local and federal policies. When you open your application, you might see a pop-up window like this:

Please be sure to read the instructions in the pop-up window before making a selection. You should convert to the new form if you have a NEW study which is either:

- ✓ (1) Federally funded or federally conducted,
OR
- ✓ (2) Copied from another application in iRIS, regardless of funding.

- ⊘ Do not convert to the new form if your study is already approved by the IRB.

If you have questions about whether you should convert to the new form, please call the IRB at 476-1814.
